New Tax Bill Enactment Is Now Predicted

House Committee Approves Boost In Corporation Tax

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The way is cleared today for House enactment of a new revenue bill reducing excise taxes one billion dollars a year and increasing corporation taxes 433 millions.

Action by the House Ways and Means Committee in boosting the corporation income tax on large firms removed the last major obstacle to House consideration.

As a result, both House and Senate Democratic leaders were optimistic over the prospects of enacting a tax bill and adjoining Congress for the year by July 31.

The Ways and Means Committee achieved a "balanced" bill by increasing corporation levies.

Picture of Situation

Here is the picture as the committee met again to tie up a few loose ends before reporting out its bill:

1. Excise taxes are reduced on jewelry, luggage, furs, cosmetics, night club checks, admissions, automobile parts and accessories, refrigerators, electric, gas and oil appliances, telephone and telegram messages and transportation.

2. Corporation taxes are increased 708 million dollars for business firms earning in excess of $167,000 a year, while taxes are reduced 275 million dollars for firms making $5,000 to $167,000 annually. Total net additional revenue: 433 million dollars.

3. Depletion allowances on coal and other minerals are cut 35 to 40 million dollars annually.

4. A 10 percent withholding tax is levied on corporation and cooperative dividends to bring in

PA NEW OBSERVES

Another small bridge is being placed along the Frew Mill road by workmen of the state highway department. It is reported today by A. A. Martin, highway superintendent. The bridge is located in the vicinity of Mt. Vernon church. Work on rebuilding the road in that area is to be resumed shortly.

When curbing is installed in Cascade street between Butler avenue and Croton avenue, by the city, the street is to be blacktopped by the state highway department. Work on placing the curbing is in progress at the present time. The new surface will be an improvement that has long been awaited in that area.

Work of repairing the fire damaged wall on the building adjacent to the old Cleindin block was started this morning. High steel scaffolding was being put in place in order that the workers could begin their work on rebuilding the damaged wall.

Today is officially the last day of spring, according to the calendar. Vacationers are hoping that the weather will soon warm up so that swimming and other outdoor sports may be indulged in.

Rain played tricks about the city Monday morning. It is reported to PA New. Up in the Croton section, such a downpour came shortly before noon that the playground operations had to be closed. In other sections hardly a drop of rain fell and the children continued their play on the playgrounds.

Let it slip up on you without warning, PA New apprises you of the fact that summer is due to arrive late Wednesday.

Elderberry crop in Lawrence county should be heavy again this season, judging from the profusion of blooms now making their appearance on the plants.

Man Who Kidnaped Three Wool Growers Is Slain In Gun Battle

MINGO JUNCTION, O., June 20.—(INS)—Two teen-aged boys, squeezed into a locked auto trunk for 43 hours, today described their terrifying ride as prisoners of a hitch-hiking kidnaper who drove aimlessly through three states before police shot and killed him.

Joseph Pacific, a 32-year-old wiring contractor of Canonsburg, Pa., died on a Mingo Junction residential street late yesterday in a gun battle with Ohio authorities roused by his estranged wife who fled after she also was kidnapped and slugged with a gun butt.

Eighteen-year-old Nick Cursi and his companion, Joe Zolnerchik, 19, were found uninjured but "half starved" in the trunk of their car, parked on a downtown street.

Picked Up In Cokesburg

They told police they picked up Pacific near their home town—Cokesburg, Pa.—at 9 o'clock Saturday night. He produced a gun and ordered them to climb into the luggage compartment. Cursi added: "I argued with him. He hit me on the head with the gun barrel."

Republicans Name Coen As New County Chairman

Sheriff Frank L. Coen was elected chairman of the Republican county committee Monday night when the committee members met in court room number one of the Lawrence county court house.

Sheriff Coen received 101 votes, as against 87 for Robert W. Lamoree. The sheriff replaces Captain Roger W. Rowland, who did not stand for re-election after 14 years of service in the office.

Brief Meeting

The meeting was marked by its brevity, by the lack of speeches and the lack of demonstrations.

Captain Rowland called the meeting to order at 7:40, and Secretary W. Filmore Campbell called the roll. Nominations for chairman were then in order. William E. Erk nominated Sheriff Coen without remarks and W. Filmore Campbell nominated Mr. Lamoree without remarks. Both motions were seconded and the balloting began.

For about 150 votes the two candidates ran neck and neck, and then Sheriff Coen began pulling away. The vote was announced at 101 to 87.

Importance Of Okinawa To U.S. Is Stressed

U.S. Leaders Confer On Far East Plans At Tokyo Sessions

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 20.—Okinawa's enhanced importance as an American outpost, now that Chinese Communists have Russian-made jet fighters, was stressed today in strategy talk among air force officer and the two top U. S. defense officials.

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, surveyed the present Far Eastern aerial situation in a one-hour conference with officers at the Tokyo headquarters of the U. S. Far East Air Force.

Conferred With MacArthur

The talk was a follow-up to the lengthy meeting Johnson and Bradley held yesterday with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The supreme commander was understood to have urged long-term retention of American bases in Japan and quick aid to the Chinese Nationalists of Formosa.

Gen. MacArthur is prepared to go deeply into the question of a formal peace treaty with Japan when he confers later in the week with John Foster Dulles, special state department adviser.

Dulles, now on an information-gathering tour of the Orient, was scheduled to arrive in Tokyo from South Korea today. However, his plane from Seoul was delayed and he now is due to land at Tokyo's Haneda Airdrome early tomorrow.

MacArthur's air force authorities were understood to have told Johnson and Bradley that the strategic value of Okinawa Island to America's Far Eastern defense must be appraised in the new light of the most recent developments in China.

Six Nations In Conference On Pooling Plan

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, I. N. S.

PARIS, June 20.—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman opened the six-nation conference on pooling Western European coal and steel production today and declared regretfully that a Europe without British cooperation is "inconceivable."

Schuman, sponsor of the trail-blazing plan, seemingly clung to the hope of eventual British membership in the pool by saying he was gratified by Britain's good wishes for the success of the preliminary conference.

Importance Of Plan

He underlined the historic importance of the plan, saying: "Never have states jointly delegated, or even envisaged to delegate, one fraction of sovereignty to a supernatural independent organism."

He spoke in the same room where he first disclosed the plan on May 9. Schuman stressed the aim of Franco-German co-operation by attempting to create "in two nations which through centuries opposed each other in

Reports Persist Hungary Would 'Ransom' Vogeler

By MARVIN STONE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

VIENNA, June 20.—Reports persisted in Vienna today that the Hungarian government has offered to "ransom" American businessman Robert A. Vogeler for the historic crown of St. Stefan, now believed to be in United States Army custody.

American diplomatic officials maintained a cautious silence concerning the reports.

One London version said that the Hungarians are holding out for full resumption of trade relations with the west as the price for release of Edgar Sanders, Vogeler's British assistant, who also is in jail.

Vogeler was sentenced to 15 years for alleged espionage and Sanders was given a 13 year term.

(State Department officials in Washington said they had no comment to make on the various reports.)

One spokesman said: "We have nothing to say on Vogeler at all—for very good reasons." There was a general belief that publication of premature reports may have upset negotiations for Vogeler's release.)

Opposition On 'Isolationist' Basis, He Says

Secretary Faces Governors' Queries Following Address

By WILLIAM THEIS
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., June 20.—Secretary of State Acheson charged today that Senate opposition to the Point Four program of aid to underdeveloped nations stands on "a narrow isolationist basis."

The secretary, in a speech before the conference of governors, declared that the program, now before the Senate Appropriations Committee, "can bring an enlargement of markets and new sources of raw materials" to the United States.

Contribution To Peace

Acheson asserted that the program "will make a great contribution to the peace and well-being of the world we live in."

The secretary devoted the burden of his talk to the program enunciated by President Truman in his inaugural address.

The program, Acheson noted, as adopted on a bipartisan basis by the Senate Foreign Relations and the House Foreign Affairs Committees, its authorization has already been signed by Mr. Truman.

"Isolationist" attacks, Acheson declared, "may damage the program and lead to misunderstandings about it both at home and abroad."

"The attacks have been paradoxical and contradictory," he said.

Program Attacked

"For example, the program has been attacked on the one hand because there were discussions with other governments of money not yet appropriated; and on the other hand for inadequate programming through failure to work out details with other governments."

"The effect of these attacks has been to obscure the basic elements of the self-help program, and to obscure the fact that it deals with the fundamental problems of community life—health, sanitation, and agriculture."

"This program has been shaken to its heels in an effort to find in it sinister implications of philanthropy."

Acheson asserted that the objective of the Point Four program—developing backward areas, is "close to the core" of U. S. foreign policy. It has not, he charged, been made a partisan issue until just now.

Murder Charge Is To Be Filed Against Bellaire Cab Driver

LONDON, O., June 20.—(INS)—The Belmont county prosecutor's office said today a charge of murder will be filed against a Bellaire, O., cab driver who confessed slaying an 18-year-old girl to death when she resisted his advances.

Irwin said Doty admitted beating the girl, pretty Alma Montag, of nearby Croft Run, to death with a two-foot tree limb in a secluded farm field during a rainstorm last Friday night.

The suspect told authorities he was acquainted with the girl and beat her because she resisted his attempt to rape her.

Citizens of the rural section are also asked by the chiefs to acquaint themselves with the telephone number of the fire department in their district, and not to call the New Castle or Ellwood City department, for fires which are not in their particular district, as this delays help reaching them and can result in a serious conflagration.

The next thing I knew I was in the compartment with my buddy." The boys said they punched holes in the body of the car with a tire tool—which saved their lives, because the trunk filled with exhaust fumes whenever the motor was started. Pacific denied their repeated requests for food and water, they said.

Cursi said Pacific threatened to "shoot us if we called for help."

He added: "We lost all track of time. Whenever he stopped for gas he would stand behind the car and rap on the trunk with his gun to make sure we would 'quiet'."

Pacific's wife, Ma, 30, said he appeared at her home in Canonsburg, Pa., early yesterday and forced her at gun point to get into the car with him.

She said he struck her with the gun butt when she tried to get out, drawing blood which soaked her clothes and the car's upholstery.

Pacific drove aimlessly on secondary roads through parts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, occasionally stopping for gas but warning her to "keep quiet."

His wife explained: "He told me he had two men locked in the trunk but I didn't believe him. They didn't make any noise while I was in the car."

In Mingo Junction, Pacific parked the car and entered a store "to buy a new dress" to replace his wife's blood-soaked clothing. He raced away on foot when his wife jumped from the car and screamed for help.

A half hour later a posse from nearby Steubenville, O., trapped the kidnaper on a terrace. He fired six shots at them—all wild—and then fell with a bullet through his heart.

NEW TAX BILL ENACTMENT IS NOW PREDICTED

170 million dollars additional from tax evaders.

5. Tax loopholes in existing law are closed to save the treasury 100 million dollars.

6. Another 284 to 309 million dollars is obtained by tightening provisions of existing law affecting trusts, interests on tax refunds, life insurance profits, corporation gains and losses, and collapsible corporations.

Vote Not Announced
The committee did not announce its vote on the corporation tax proposal, but a member stated that it was along party lines, with the Democrats supporting it and the Republicans in opposition.

Colin Stam, chief of staff for the joint congressional tax study committee, estimated that a virtually balanced bill was the result of the Ways and Means Committee's five months' work. Stam said the bill was still short in revenue 12 million dollars annually, but that was considered trifling in view of the total sum involved.

The committee is expected to report its bill out Thursday or Friday and the measure will be called up in the House the following Monday or Tuesday. Passage appears assured, probably by two or three days later.

The bill is now in a shape where President Truman can sign it, even though it does not carry out his recommendations. Mr. Truman requested a more modest cut in excise taxes and overall new revenue of one billion dollars.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and sympathy extended us during the illness and death of our mother, Margaret Krueger. Also for beautiful flowers and cars donated.

The secretary brought Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup and GOP adviser John Sherman Cooper to aid him in his panel discussions with the governors.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Harriman Appointment Approved

One of those genuinely rare occasions on which an American presidential appointment meets with general world approval seems to have taken place today with President Truman's selection of W. Averell Harriman as "trouble-shooter" for the State Department. Harriman, a former banker and railway executive, bears a name almost as well known now throughout the universe as that of former Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

He was taken from high commerce and industry into the front line trenches of international affairs at a time of crisis when it seemed that even an ill-chosen word might touch off a spark leading to holocaust.

Satisfactory Reaction

The initial reaction from European capitals to President Truman's decision is one of complete satisfaction.

Harriman is a man who combines inherited aristocratic dignity with an easy-going approach to monumental problems that have combined to make him something of a "wizard" to the European people. He always is on equal terms with kings and heads of state as with some unfortunate displaced person from a persecuted foreign land who by hook or by crook has been able to seek and find his ear.

Harriman, despite his enthusiastic acceptance of the new post and his known desire to return to the United States, faces a task that easily might floor a less determined man.

The foreign policy of the United States has been subjected to criticism in many quarters. This he will be called upon to counteract. His known powers of persuasion and deep contact with international affairs will stand him in good stead.

Job Is Difficult

But more difficult will be the job of coordinating State Department matters as they affect the numerous issues abroad in which the interested parties themselves are so frequently at variance.

Over and above the cold war itself, it is permissible to list these few "items on the agenda":

1.—The Schuman plan for pooling European iron, coal and steel resources as the foundation of a thoroughgoing economic and financial union. Great Britain is sitting on the fence and will stay there until consultations beginning in Paris on Tuesday show some definite shape and form as to the probable outcome.

2.—The question of German cooperation with Western Europe. East Germany, under Soviet domination, wants no part of it. The West German federation itself has a narrow vote against heavy opposition in deciding to enter the council at Strasbourg.

3.—The continuance of badly battered Nationalist China in the United Nations. France is reported swinging over to Chiang Kai-shek's exclusion in favor of the Communists. This would be a major victory for Soviet Russia in the diplomatic field but at the same time would restore the U. N. to a working entity.

4.—The Civil War in French Indo-China. President Truman has allocated large funds to assist the loyalist Bao Dai, who is supported by the French government. But at the same time there have been charges that this aid embodies a continued colonialism that is out of tune with Mr. Truman's point four program for the self-improvement of backward peoples.

All of which adds up to the incontestable fact that Averell Harriman has been called upon to assure a stupendous task.

The issues involved are far-reaching; the opinions as to strategy and tactics are varied to an immeasurable degree.

Like many United States executives functioning abroad, such as Philadelphia banker John J. McCloy who is American high commissioner for Germany, Harriman has the tremendous advantage of vast experience in big business and the handling of manifold problems.

His return to the State Department may herald a new era in international diplomacy. Secretary of State Dean Acheson picked him personally. President Truman gave his approval. The stage may be set for a vigorous, fresh campaign for peace and democracy.

Not that during my few days here I haven't travelled many a mile by foot, by trolley, by bus and by hired car. Actually, I must have established some sort of mileage record.

The scarcity of information in this piece is largely due to the guide I happened to choose to take me about the oldest city in the world. I chose him from half a dozen or more guides who spend most of their waking hours just outside the entrance to the Orient Palace hotel.

He seemed a logical choice. He spoke very good English, was properly dressed, had a high, intelligent forehead, and said that he had lived in Damascus for more than 40 years and knew every nook and cranny of the place.

Apparently My Own Fault

In a way, the fact that my guide turned out to be less than satisfactory, to say the least, was my fault. I have travelled enough in the past 20 years, and had enough guides, to know that the most important question to ask a guide is what his real, all-consuming passion in life is.

I remember a guide in Peiping who cared about nothing but American automobiles, especially new ones. He thought it was silly for us to visit the Forbidden Palace when we could stroll about the European quarter and admire the latest models from Detroit.

A guide in Rome had food as his passion. The Vatican, the catacombs, St. Peter's, and the Appian Way ran poor seconds to good restaurants. Had he had his way in Rome we have have spent most of our time admiring the architecture of a plate of pasta with Bolognese sauce, or a dish of squid sautéed in butter.

But to get back to this Damascus guide. His life revolves around electricity, its by-products, and electrical appliances. He is much more interested in electricity than Franklin or Edison was, and his dream is to make a trip to the States and spend all his time in the Washington plant.

The first place he took us, and where we would spend the day had he had his way, was Merjeh Square, in which stands a rather homely bronze column. This monument commemorates the establishment of telegraph service between Damascus and the Holy Places of Islam, and the relief on the column shows telegraph poles, wires and insulators. The guide's face took on a look of pure rapture as he described the wonders electricity had wrought in the speeding up of messages.

Finally Got To Bazaar

I finally got him to lead us to the bazaar, one of the biggest and most fascinating in the world, and again his love of electrical current overcame him. I asked him to take us to the street where the goldsmiths and silversmiths work just as they did in Biblical days. One can buy lovely things there at amazing prices, and I wanted to spend a pound or two. But I almost had to bring in a donkey to force him to lead us to it.

He explained that the goldsmiths and silversmiths worked in tiny shops where the electricity was very, very poor, and that in some of the tiny cubicles the artists worked by lamplight or what little light from the sun managed to filter in. He suggested that we go to a modern apartment building where there were dozens of lamps in the lobby, and where every single room could be lighted just by pushing a little button.

"It is something every one should see," he said emphatically. "No one should come to Damascus and not see what has been done, and is being done, with the wonderful stuff that comes out of wires."

I had planned to visit the mountain cave where Cain slew Abel, but decided to wait until tomorrow and another guide. I could just picture the resentment of my guide if I asked him to take me to an old cave where fluorescent lighting is not likely to be found.

Damascus Guide Fails

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

DAMASCUS, Syria.—I'm terribly sorry, but this won't be a very full account of the ancient wonders to be seen by the visitor to Damascus.

Not that during my few days here I haven't travelled many a mile by foot, by trolley, by bus and by hired car. Actually, I must have established some sort of mileage record.

He explained that the goldsmiths and silversmiths worked in tiny shops where the electricity was very, very poor, and that in some of the tiny cubicles the artists worked by lamplight or what little light from the sun managed to filter in. He suggested that we go to a modern apartment building where there were dozens of lamps in the lobby, and where every single room could be lighted just by pushing a little button.

"It is something every one should see," he said emphatically. "No one should come to Damascus and not see what has been done, and is being done, with the wonderful stuff that comes out of wires."

I had planned to visit the mountain cave where Cain slew Abel, but decided to wait until tomorrow and another guide. I could just picture the resentment of my guide if I asked him to take me to an old cave where fluorescent lighting is not likely to be found.

Always Be An England

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.—Britain's rejection of the Schuman plan calls for a let's-think-it-over pause in the passionate love-making of Western internationalism. In declining to get married to the French proposal of a steel and coal merger, the British Labor Government has said that:

1. To the victors of World War II belong the spoils, such as they are. Among the meager spoils that fell to Britain was the position of being a steel-maker second only to the U. S. Why share this position with the nations of continental Europe?

2. Internationalism is all right as a wartime alliance, but in peacetime let us have business as usual. The business of England is now socialism.

3. Nationalism is the true meaning of Democracy. As others are free to choose private enterprise, let England be free to exploit Socialism for the good of every Briton.

Appears To Be Definite Break

It almost goes without saying that this is a definite break from the stick-together motto which European nations have been posting on their walls since V-E day. To the extent that the U. S. has been spending money and passing laws in favor of a united Europe, the British statement is anti-Truman and anti-Acheson although not anti-American. Insofar as the Schuman plan rejection is foreign policy, the Labor Government—ironically enough—has left the global-minded Democrats and joined the isolation-inclined Republicans. Prime Minister Attlee has backed a statement of intent and belief that is much closer to Senator Taft than to President Truman. Attlee's ministry now assumes—as Taft does—that it's better to have a few rich, successful nations than a mapful of equitably impoverished ones. To put it another way, Britain is again ready to rule the exportation wave for profit, and not willing to share her exports with poverty-ridden neighbors.

Good Or Bad News

This is good or bad news for America, depending on who receives it here.

It is certainly good news to find England spunky and self-assured almost exactly 10 years after the do-or-die evacuation of Dunkirk. If the purpose of the Marshall Plan and other aid-measures was to establish British economic and political independence, then Americans should rejoice. Deep in debt, her pound sterling devaluated, her Empire partly dissolved, Britain has begun a stirring comeback. So much of a comeback that she is willing to disregard American leadership and to dissolve the protective partnership with Western Europe. Those who wished to see England in a position—or at least in a mood—of independence, ought to be glad.

But those who looked for long-lasting gratitude and subservience to American international leadership, are bound to be sorry. As things were going, Europe was galloping toward political union when England balked. In itself the Schuman plan for a European steel-coal merger is not the ultimate issue. Two weeks ago the feeling in Washington was that the Labor Government would somehow find a face-saving way to follow Secretary of State Acheson's wishes in this matter. British spokesmen here were frank to state that the Schuman plan did not fit their Government's program of socialism and that Acheson's endorsement of the Schuman plan was unfortunate. But not many expected the British Government to say so bluntly that England "cannot see European unity as an overriding end in itself." This is another way to say that European unity comes second to British prosperity, as envisioned by the Labor Government.

Another Interpretation

But somewhere between the two American viewpoints—glad and sorry—must come another interpretation. Unless we expect and demand an American bossdom of the Western world, this example of British independence has to be admired. The strength of a family is never represented in the bowing-down to the autocrat of the breakfast table, even when he happens to hold the purse strings. It is far better to find that the U. S. has fed and nurtured a spunky England than an obsequious one. An England that will resist American pressure is sure to resist Russian pressure. If and when the British people do speak out for European unity, their hearts will be in it.

Also, the British decision seems to be based on the assumption that the world, after all, is at peace. There is something to be said for that attitude, too. It's pretty hard for a world to recover from one war while rolling up its sleeves to fight another.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A recent column in which I confessed that I am not a church-goer brought me more mail than anything I had ever written; with one exception.

That exception was my complaint that my wife could not make popovers pop.

Hundreds of letters came in, telling her dozen of right ways to make popovers pop.

She tried them all. She succeeded. But now I am so sick of popovers that I can't even look at them any more, let alone eat them.

There is no similarity between religion and popovers.

But it seems that there are as many ways of interpreting the Bible, religion, and Christianity as there are to make popovers pop.

I concede that there are many ways of cooking a dish.

But there is only one right way to make religion effective.

That is to lead our lives as spiritual beings rather than merely physical ones; to live in love and brotherhood, in peace and an appreciation of God's wonders and goodness, and to express that appreciation in gratitude and prayers.

Many of the letters I received after my column on church-going applauded me for my courage and sincerity.

Many others called me an apostate, an infidel—and worse.

I stand by my original position. Going to church is fine. I am all for a strong, effective, inspiring church, and I send my regular contributions to my own church and to several others whenever I think I can be of help.

But I insist that one can be deeply religious and a true believer even without doing his praying and giving thanks in public.

Let me quote from the sixth chapter of St. Matthew, which is part of the Sermon on the Mount. "And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men . . .

"But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret; and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

In E. V. Durling's column a few days ago, I read a verse by Morris Abbe Beer:

"Who builds a church within his heart, And takes it with him everywhere, Is holier far than he whose church is but a one-day house of prayer."

Too many church doors are closed too many hours of the week. The church door of the soul is open twenty-four hours of every day.

Folks Of Fame

Gene Krupa was born in Chicago, Jan. 15, 1909. At nine he started piano lessons, but he so wrecked the family piano that his family stopped him and he became a drummer. He was called "The Ace Drummer Man" one of the leading "swing" percussionists in popular music. Through his recordings, moving pictures, radio broadcasts and personal appearances, it has been estimated he has "raised the blood pressure of more young Americans" than any other modern instrumentalist. He came to New York in 1939 and became famed as the rhythm man in Benny Goodman's band. He formed his own orchestra in 1938. He has made recordings of drumming, and even delivered lectures on The History and Origin of Drums and Their Use in Modern Rhythms and the Lexicon of Swing.

PERSIAN PUZZLE

Two big planes came down within a short distance of each other within two days. Both crashed in the same inexplicable way. Total loss of life for the pair of accidents: 46 men, women and children. Officials of the French national air line, Air France, are about frantic.

As far as can be determined, the circumstances of one accident duplicate the other. Both occurred while storms were sweeping the Persian Gulf. Both ships were preparing to land on the air strips at Bahrain Island, 20 miles off the coast of Saudi Arabia. Both planes had raised the field by radio and had received permission to land. That was the last that was heard of either of them.

Mechanical failure in two big, well-served, four-engined planes over the same geographical spot seems a little far fetched. The theory of sabotage by pro-Red Indo-Chinese has been discounted. Bad weather might have done it. A closer investigation may show the cause.

Perhaps the failure can be blamed on forces not connected with the plane. The island airfield is equipped with conventional radio beams but not with any of the landing approach aids that are so plentiful in this country. It is possible that the radio beams were thrown out of calibration by some weather phenomenon to such an extent that the pilot flying down them flew his plane right into the ocean. Such mishaps have happened before.

In any event, there is a grim Persian puzzle facing Air France investigators. The eyes of the air world will be close on them.

DECIBELS IN JUNE

In Philadelphia they are giving out, with marriage licenses, a polite missive from the police department under the title "Unnecessary Sounding of Horns." It cites the illegality of doing so, and winds up with this:

"The Philadelphia police take this opportunity to request that you and your wedding party abide by the above rules while driving on the streets and highways, especially during your contemplated nuptials."

There, now—what could be a gentler or more persuasive way of getting the drivers of happy bridal caravans to keep their big mitts off the horn rings? Police are notoriously soft-hearted where young love comes within their purview. But how could they ignore the complaints?

You can't hear on the telephone, you can't even hear yourself, when a long string of horn-blowing cars comes by. The noise distracts the attention of other drivers from what they're doing. If their lips are seen to move, are they really blessing the happy young couple?

Police everywhere think the Philly police have an idea worth trying. So maybe would the newly-wedded pair themselves, years later, when the sound effects of their children add to the mounting decibels of life.

Noise-making to badger a newly married pair at night is, of course, an ancient custom brought from Europe. The French charivari—the mock serenade of banging on pots and pans—became the "shivaree" of Louisiana. Staunch upholders of folk customs, we nevertheless make an exception of the horn-blowing serenade in broad daylight on city streets. Time and place just do not seem appropriate.

MR. DEWEY'S DECISION.

The wisdom of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's decision not to seek re-election to a third term, being based on considerations of the state of his health, is not to be challenged. Our regret that such a course is necessary is profound. It is shared by great numbers of Americans of every political affiliation.

To the people of New York state the decision means the loss of a competent and courageous administrator who, through two terms in office, has served their interests with exceptional skill and energy. They, unquestionable, will miss him most.

It is not yet clear to what extent Mr. Dewey's valuable services at the national level are to be curtailed. He has said that he will continue to be active in public affairs. It is to be hoped sincerely that he will be able to do so and that he can remain in the forefront of progressive Republican leadership.

It is to Mr. Dewey, perhaps more than any other individual, that millions of Americans looked for a restoration of sound financial policies in the federal government and for broad, forward-looking policies both for his own party and the nation. We can ill afford to lose the services of such a citizen.

There is a real hope that Mr. Dewey, who is 48 years old, will be restored to health by a rest from the terrific labors to which he, in common with many public officials, has been subjected over a period of 20 years. May he soon be able to return to aid in the struggle for sound government which he has so courageously waged in the face of overwhelming odds.

—Philadelphia Inquirer.

What worries many persons is the fear that any of the days going by eventually will be looked back upon as the good old days.

A noted foot doctor says our feet are accurate "revealers of weather conditions." Sure—when you get home with damp socks you can wager it's been raining.

With stockpiles of atom bombs on hand and the hydrogen bomb just around the corner it would seem that the human race is now nearing the home stretch.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A prominent lady columnist has firmly resolved to deduct several thousand dollars from her next year's income-tax return for "depreciation of brain power." Owners of mines and oilwells are allowed enormous write-offs for depreciation of their income-providing properties," she points out. "My only income-providing property is my brain. In twenty years I'll be too old to think clearly and obviously will not longer be able to syndicate three columns a week. I therefore figure my brain is deteriorating at the rate of about 5 per cent annually."

This sounds like solid, constructive thinking to me, but I have an idea the Tax Department may react differently.

A house-guest of Franklin P. Adams, noting an expression akin to exhaustion on the face of his host, stopped in the middle of a sentence and asked, "Say, am I talking too much?" Adams replied, "Let's put it this way: you never seem to have an unexpressed thought."

It's the All-American sport . . . everyone knows that is baseball. And if you have a small boy in your home you will hear baseball talk from early spring until football time . . . That is why Carl E. Stotz of Williamsport decided to do something new . . . and in 1938 he and a group of merchants of that city started The Little League.

The Little League is made up of boys between the ages of eight and twelve who like baseball . . . in fact they eat and sleep baseball . . . hundreds of these small fry teams have been organized throughout the United States. It gives the lads' egos a great lift when they don a uniform just like the big leaguers wear.

This sand-lot baseball has done wonders in many a community to help keep down "unrest" in this young generation . . . all types of boys have learned to work together in making the team click . . . good sportsmanship has been developed, and the teamwork . . . why it's just out of this world. The games only last six innings and are played on diamonds two-thirds regulation size. And in all the cities where a Little League is operating today . . . parents are having as much fun as the players . . . There might be one hitch to the idea before the twilight game (when parents can attend) and one after . . . But that's OK says mum . . . look at that boy growing straight and strong.

Maybe you know all about these Little League Ball Teams . . . on the sport pages of this newspaper articles have appeared about starting such an outfit here . . . in fact we are informed that uniforms are on order and should be here in a very short time. Some difficulty has developed as to where the Little League might play. But we feel sure that the proper officials of the community will be able to solve this problem . . . they know that such an organization would do wonders for all peoples . . . for a happy town is a good town . . . and a good town is a pleasure to all concerned.

If you are interested in baseball . . . then you can be interested in the Little League . . . who knows, maybe we have a Babe Ruth in the making right here.

Girl Scout
Camp Is OpenGirls At Camp From All Parts Of County

From New Wilmington, Mt. Jackson, New Bedford, Pulaski, Conneautville, Mahoningtown, Edensburg, Bessemer, and all parts of New Castle proper, scouts poured into camp on Sunday afternoon. To the experienced camper, weather good or bad, makes not a particle of difference. There are always many old and new things to do and an element of surprise to which each may look forward.

The old girls took possession of the pioneer unit on the hill just across from the regular cabins. The following group of men: Frank Bower, Charles West, John Coles, Jim Bowers, Plummer Gibson, Bruch Gibson and William Tebya, set up the tents which were too large for the girls to erect themselves.

Fireplaces and pioneer equipment are taking form under the supervision of counselors Mercedes Urda, Phyllis Pugh, and Mary Ann McKee. Campers Esther Huffman, Shirley Ruth Bender, Wendolyn Boyer, Janet Bedman, Ida Spizzo, Hazel Ann Maxwell, Donna Jean Bigley, Barbara Cartwright, Phyllis Jean Byers, Margaret S. Glassell and Ruth Elaine Gibson are scheduled to do star study in this unit with nature counselor Mrs. Emily Burkes.

Counselors Alice Alphonso and Elaine Hogan welcomed campers Patty Elder, Daisy Glassell, Donna Jean Ray, Janet Kildoo, Phyllis Jean McAnlis, Janice Lee Patton, Shirley Fullerton, Delores Kolunie, Marcella Hicks, Sandra Bair and Kathrine Glink to the Explorer Unit.

The remainder of the campers were divided into two units. Counselors Honey Shumate, Nancy Reed and Shirley Scotia had everything in readiness for campers Jacqueline Lindsley, Nancy Lee Wagner, Barbara Glink, Barbara Davis, Shirley Jean Evans, Betty Ann White, Irma Rowan, Patty Hileman, Roberta Schell, Diane L. Stanley, Sandra May Bryan, Delores Peiffer, Patricia Sowersby, Alice Glassell, Clara DeVitto, Mary Bell Reynolds, Carolyn Haley, Dianne Stanley, Nancy Filban.

The following campers: Elsa M. Carenbauer, Judy Johnson, Virginia Widney, Barbara Double, Barbara Wiley, LaVerne Jackson, Marian L. Carver, Serena Rashid, Roberta Schell, Carol Golla, June Reed, Barbara Jean Mehochic, Judy Assid, Margo Louise Keane, Joyce Williams, Barbara Comianos, Helen Moses, Charlotte McMillen, Carlotta Sipe, Nancy Jean Ray and Gretchen Muth were happily assigned to Counselors Lillian Smock and Jean Gray.

Parents saw their daughters comfortably settled and will return on closing day for them. They inspected camp as there are no visiting days during the period. After the parents left a program of songs and games was carried on during the rain. The campers were reluctant to stop for chicken dinner. Later a nature session with "Wren" (Mrs. Emily Burkes) introduced the girls to Myrtle and Gertie the camp turtles and to Freddie the frog. Movies followed and the evening entertainment closed with a melodrama by Camp Counselors and snack.

Enjoy Week's Outing

Members of Boy Scout Troop 4 have returned after concluding a week's summer camp at the Lawrence County Boy Scout camp.

With a healthy sun tan, and well fed looks, the scouts thoroughly enjoyed themselves despite a couple of days cold and inclement weather, some wishing they had more blankets during that period.

How to take the Work out of Housework

Wash beater and bowl of your electric mixer immediately after use. Lukewarm water is best. Never bang the beater against the bowl to detach particles. Dry thoroughly. Wipe off motor. Cover when not in use.

(Mixers are handy. You can run yours a hour for a cent's worth of electricity.)

Electric bulbs give better light when clean. Regularly wipe off the bulbs with a damp cloth. You'll be surprised at the light-robbing grime they collect. Fluorescent bulbs should be cleaned once a month.

(You can light a 100-watt fluorescent lamp for almost 3 hours for a single penny!)

Want to make a parchment lamp shade last longer, stay cleaner and look better? Wax it. Simply polish with a soft cloth and a colorless furniture wax. Makes shade easier to dust, too.

(Did you know a penny of electricity will light a 40-watt lamp bulb for 7 hours?)

What's more welcome than a cooling fan these hot summer days? Be sure the blades on your fan are clean, and the wire and plug are in good order. Fans get thirsty in summer, too. When was yours oiled last?

(For only one cent, an ordinary sized fan will keep you cool more than 4 full hours.)

Before washing dishes that have held raw eggs, rinse in cold water. Hot water cooks the eggs on the dish, makes washing harder. Lucky you, if you have an electric washer. Simply put your dishes in and forget them!

(An electric dishwasher will wash and dry 6 loads of dishes for a penny! Less breakage, too!)

Sprinkle clothes with hot water. It spreads through fibers quicker and more evenly. Make a sprinkler out of a ketchup bottle and a spray cork. Wrap colored clothes separately in wax paper, and they won't run.

(It's true you can iron 20 handkerchiefs for a cent's worth of electricity!)

Be kind to your washing machine. Never overload. Empty machine while suds are hot. Brush cylinder under the water that runs out. Let cylinder dry thoroughly before replacing.

(Two cents will supply the electricity to do an average family wash for a whole week!)

229th Getting Ready For Camp

Artillerymen To Leave Late Next Month

Col. George F. Mitchell, commanding officer of the 229th Field Artillery battalion, announced today that the 229th will attend summer camp at Indiantown Gap military reservation from July 29 to August 2. There are still openings for about 30 men in the New Castle units of the 229th. Col. Mitchell is very desirous of filling these vacancies so the 229th will have its allotted strength at camp. Pay scales at camp are on the same basis as the regular army, with all food, clothing and equipment being furnished. Training is the best that can be had. While at camp the men will work with radar, radio, wire, vehicles, guns, ammunition and all equipment used by a field artillery battalion. The work is both interesting and educational. Several ratings are open in the 229th and former service men may enlist at their former grades. As a man's proficiency increases he is promoted to a higher grade, which of course means higher pay. No enlistments can be made after June 30, so it is requested that those interested contact Cunningham Army any week day or on Wednesday or Thursday night.

Church Council Has Dinner Meeting

New Castle Council of Church Members assembled Monday evening at Croton Methodist church, with President Worrell Jones presiding. Following the dinner several items of business were transacted.

Plans were made for a union reformation service to be conducted Sunday, Oct. 29, at a church yet to be announced. Definite plans were formulated to conduct a teachers' training course during the fall months.

The council decided to take over the responsibility for a city-wide union service this summer. The first such service will be conducted on July 2 at Third U. P. church. The law and order committee was asked to investigate the alleged accusation that gambling establishments are in operation in the city.

In response to numerous inquiries as to whether the city church council is affiliated with the Federal or State Council of Churches, Mr. Jones reported that no affiliation is held with these organizations. The dates for future dinner meetings were announced as follows: September 18, November 20, January 15, March 12, April 16 and June 18.

Carl E. Paisley Returns From Consumers Parley

Carl E. Paisley, manager of the Credit Bureau of the Greater New Castle, Inc., has returned from the 36th annual International Consumer Credit Conference held this year at Cincinnati June 12, 13, 14 and 15.

A joint meeting of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, National Retail Credit Association, Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs of North America, and Retail Credit Granters of Canada, this annual conference draws leading figures in credit from all over North America, Mr. Paisley said.

Special emphasis at this conference, he said, was placed on better cooperation between credit bureaus and collection offices on the one hand, and credit granters on the other hand. Credit bureau and collection managers also pointed out that this would help Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public by speeding up the time required to open a charge account.

Mr. Paisley says that the majority of credit granters and credit bureau and collection service managers feel that government restrictions are not on their way back—not, he added, "if those of us in the field of credit are willing to accept our responsibility to see that credit is kept on a safe basis."

Deadline Nears For County Farmers

Lawrence county farmers, who wish to participate in the Conservation program for 1950, and those who have not received a wheat allotment for their farm, are reminded by Harry M. Thompson, chairman of the Lawrence County Production and Marketing Association, that any farmer, to be eligible for payments under the 1950 program, must have their application on file in the county office in the Court House Annex before June 30.

Farms on which no wheat was seeded for harvest in any of the years from 1948 to 1950, may apply for a 1951 acreage allotment, Mr. Thompson states. To be considered for an allotment on a new farm, the farmer should apply in writing to the committee by July 7.

It Says the Nicest Things About You!

There are few stronger urges in the human breast than that which grows out of the desire to stand well among our fellow beings.

And around this great basic emotion lies much of the appeal of a Cadillac car.

Alight from your Cadillac anywhere you will, in the presence of people, and certain splendid deductions are immediately made about you.

It could not be otherwise—for the wonderful people who own this car have made it so. In every community in America, a preponderant proportion of the leading citizens have long since turned to Cadillac.

Out of this close association, the car has partaken of the character of its owners until it has now become their symbol. It is recognized throughout the world as the all but automatic companion to outstanding personal success.

The genesis of all this, of course, is quality. For almost fifty years, Cadillac cars have been built to the highest standards it is practical to enforce in the production of a motor car. And people of achievement and discernment have sought them out as water seeks its level.

Today, Cadillac stands uniquely alone in the things it reflects upon its owner. It all but writes his biography!

Have you thought of a Cadillac car for yourself? If so, why not come in some day, quite soon, and talk it over?

We think you'd be surprised and delighted at how easy and practical it has now become to join the wonderful people who own and drive this wonderful car.

City Hall
Council Has Busy Session
Complaints Aired
At Session Monday

Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland declared in councilmanic session Monday in City Hall that the department of streets had done work improperly at a gas station at North Jefferson and Falls street, after which Solicitor Robert White advised the situation should be remedied to protect the city from liability for damage.

The charge came after Mayor John F. Haven, in answer to a recent statement by E. Gene Schweinsberg, streets department head, that no permit had been granted for the construction of the City building, told Council: "A permit was granted because I took one out in 1948 at the instigation of Solicitor Robert White."

Mr. Hoyland said the charge was made a week ago yesterday, adding: "At the time it was made there was a more serious matter, which I disliked to call up. It was the putting down of amiesite along the curb of a gasoline station at North Jefferson and Falls street." He said the work was done contrary to law.

The finance minister asserted that "if anything happens the city will be held liable."

According to City Engineer John Z. Street, who was questioned concerning the job, three inches of amiesite was laid, instead of 1 1/2 inches along the curb. Mr. Street stated he has been informed the situation will be rectified.

Mr. Street added that, when the material was laid, it was done so for future repaving of Falls street. It was reported there was "a bad place" along the curb and the street had to be amiesited the way it was to prevent water lying along the curb. Mr. Street then alleged there were other violations of driveway regulations in various sections of the city.

Mr. Hoyland informed Mr. Street:

"Yes, but the city did the work at the service station."

Solicitor White recommended that the situation be remedied immediately to relieve the city from possible future damage claims.

PAY FOR CIRCUS PARKING
Following a recommendation by Mayor John F. Haven, motorists who auto to the city circus grounds will be required to pay a parking charge of 15 cents.

He said this was necessary in view of the fact that the plot, graded recently, is now growing lots of weeds and space possibly needed for parking may have to be graded to care for parking.

The Mayor suggested that, instead of the city bearing the expense of weed-cutting and possible bulldozing, the city give the parking money to Jake Elias, who is in charge of Cascade street dump, for doing, or having the work performed.

The Mayor said that motorists would be glad to pay a parking fee for regulating parking. Hereafter, he said parking has been haphazard and it is difficult for cars to get in or out of the circus lot.

Councilman Joseph F. Medure said the city has a weed cutter.

It was explained that he is kept busy elsewhere.

Councilman Richard I. Davis, who is in charge of health and dumps, said that although circuses and carnivals agree to clean up lots after shows, they fail to do so, and this should be part of Mr. Elias' duty—for getting the parking money.

Finance Minister Hoyland asked if this would interfere with Mr. Elias' duties at the dump, admitting that "we need someone to do the work."

Controller Charles A. Kennedy interrupted to say that Elias receives only $6.80 a day and cannot be expected to work night and day.

Councilman Medure said that Elias has several sons and he could assign the regulation of parking, weed cutting and "clean-up" to one or both of them, or someone else.

WILL RETAIN STATUS
Councilman Davis said that if Elias was assigned the work it should be done in such a manner as not to endanger his status as an employee of the city.

Solicitor Robert White told Mr. Davis such could be arranged legally.

Councilman Medure offered a motion instructing Solicitor White to draft the necessary legal authority for the action. Mr. Davis seconded the motion, which passed. In the meantime Mr. Elias will do the work and receive the parking fees as compensation for his work

STEALING TRUCK PARTS?
Edward Eppinger, service station operator, appeared before Council and asked if he could buy an obsolete garbage truck parked at the plant.

Health Director Richard I. Davis told him it was being reconditioned for use of the weed cutter, a Mr. V. Russo.

Mr. Eppinger said he had inspected the truck and had discovered that some of its parts had been stolen.

ASKS FOR ADVICE
City Engineer John Z. Street inquired of Council and Solicitor White concerning sewage from Ne-shannock township septic tanks which is allegedly flowing into North Mercer street storm sewer.

"Investigate where the connections are," Solicitor White advised. He added that color tests, which are not always true, also be employed.

Mr. Street said that it was impossible for a man to walk through the big sewer and discover it, because it is double hollow tile. He might notice the color of the inner "ring," but couldn't see it in the "outer ring," he said.

Finance Director Hoyland said that, in his opinion, tile has been laid from septic tanks to a natural water course and the sewage flows through it and enters the storm sewer at Glenmore boulevard. He said he had brought this to the attention of Streets and Sewers Director E. Gene Schweinsberg, but had not received a report from Mr. Schweinsberg, who was not in Council Monday.

Following this he asserted that about half of the employees of the United Engineering & Foundry company build or live outside the city, do not pay any city tax, yet want city facilities.

"Legislation defeated the purpose of the wage tax," Councilman Davis charged. He did not elaborate on his statement.

Solicitor White ended the subject by advising Mr. Street to bring a suit in equity if he can discover where the violation is occurring.

CAP TO SPONSOR CARNIVAL
Paul Hrisoulas, member of the CAP, requested the city's permission for a carnival on the circus grounds in September. He said the carnival would pay for the use of the ground, the regular city fees, hire police and operate according to police regulations. The Mayor said if this was done it would be satisfactory, providing the carnival was not one which was closed by state police for violations some years ago. Mr. Hrisoulas said it was not the same carnival.

POLLOCK AVENUE PLANS
Council honored the certificate asking for $13,200, due Kane Bros. for grading and installing a sanitary sewer in Gretchen and Wooley avenue, the work having been completed.

The city engineer was instructed, on motion of Safety Director Richard I. Davis, to draft plans and specifications for the paving of Pollock avenue. A petition had been presented which contained a majority in footage and number of properties interested.

DIVIDE MONEY
Council received from the state auditor-general a check for $15,859.13, as the city's allocation of tax received on premiums of foreign fire insurance. By motion of Finance Director Hoyland and seconded by Councilman Davis, the money will be devoted to the paid firemen's pension fund and the volunteer firemen's relief fund.

Phillip Winter asked sanction to open and lay a sanitary sewer in Randolph street between Arlington avenue and Addis street for a distance of 550 feet. On motion of Councilman Davis, the engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications.

Council adopted on motion of Councilman Davis an ordinance changing and fixing the grade of Audley avenue between Hillcrest avenue and Elizabeth street.

Arms Aid Bill Is Given Approval By Committees

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—Two Senate committees unanimously approved today the $1,222,500,000 Arms Aid bill in almost the exact form asked by President Truman.

Sen. Connally (D) Tex., chairman of the combined Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, announced the vote as 12 to 0 and said he hoped to bring the bill to the Senate floor for debate Thursday.

The two groups adopted the Connally amendment to restrict somewhat the authority asked by Mr. Truman to divert $122,250,000 of the arms money to unspecified countries.

Thief Handcuffs Man, Steals $16

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—(INS)—Curiosity combined with agreeableness cost Paul Dentice sixteen dollars and six hours of discomfort until he figured out what to do about the handcuffs he was wearing.

He was going home from a wedding party Saturday night when a man approached and asked Dentice if he would like to see a truck. Dentice at first refused then agreeably said okay.

When Dentice put out his hands as instructed, the stranger clamped on a pair of handcuffs, then lesteurily rifled Dentice's pocket before leaving with his wallet and the $16.

The 31-year-old Pittsburgher spent the remainder of the night riding a trolley before deciding to appeal to police who found a key that fit the cuffs.

Film On Safety Seen By Rotary

"Traffic with the Devil," was the title of a fine film on safety, which was shown to New Castle Rotary Club members at their weekly luncheon meeting, in The Castleton, Monday.

The pictures called attention to the increase in traffic hazards caused by the tremendous increase in the number of automobiles, and also the other difficulties as to parking, and traffic congestion.

It also pointed out the greater need for caution on the part of the driver, with traffic mishaps causing a death in the United States every 15 minutes, most of them due to carelessness, impetuosity, and disregard of the rights of the other fellow.

Guests at Monday's meeting were P. R. Corey and John Crawford, of Columbiana, O.; John C. Vance, of New Wilmington, and Dr. Frank Campbell, of Bessemer.

The words to the patriotic hymn, "America," were written in 1832 by a theological student, Samuel Francis Smith, to the tune "God Save the King," which he found in a German songbook.

An enraged elephant will fell a man with his trunk, sore him with his tusks, trample on him, then fling the body 75 feet or more away.

Don Eagle And Gypsy Joe Wrestle At Taggart Stadium Tonight

Both Wrestlers Popular Matmen

Sensational Tag Match Anticipated

Providing Old Man Rain-In-The-Face remains in the background, and the night is mild, there should be several thousand patrons of the 1950 Art of Wrestling at Taggart stadium, at 8:30 p. m. tonight, to see a Mat carnival. The feature match will be between the Indian, Don Eagle, and Gypsy Joe, a Nomad. Two other bouts, one of which will be a spectacular Australian Tag, will be staged.

The matches are being sponsored by Post 136, Lawrence County Jewish War Veterans to raise money which will be used to buy television sets for various wards of Deshon Hospital, Butler, where disabled vets are undergoing treatment. The Jefferson A. C., which, under State Athletic Commission law, is licensed, is cooperating fully with the effort.

Reams have been written about Gypsy Joe, who beat Pierre LaBelle, and Don Eagle, the redskin, who won over Frederick Von Schacht. Both proved popular in their only bouts here, and no better attraction could have been secured. They're due to wrestle to one fall, or a one hour limit, decision.

Excitement In Tag
The tag should be sensational because on one side of the match, is Benito Gardini, a terror of the mat, and Jungle Boy Dutch Howell, a mat thespian, if ever there was one. Paired against this pair are Stacey Hall and Angelo Poffo. The latter is said to be plenty good, and a vicious wrestler when riled.

Dick Trout and Tony Morella, both youthful aspirants if higher honors in the mat world, will open the show at 8:30 p. m. They are due to wrestle 30 minutes, unless it is halted by a fall. The tag will be won by the team scoring two of three falls, and the main bout by the one capturing a fall or decision.

Favor Mangrum To Win PGA Title

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—Lloyd Mangrum, the cool customer with the mustache and the equanimity of a river boat gambler, was established today as a strong darkhorse for the PGA tournament beginning tomorrow.

Without firing a shot over the championship Scioto Country Club course—a 7,061-yard, par-72 layout—Mangrum was nominated by his fellow professionals as the man to beat.

Mangrum, the 1946 National Open champion, was out of action all last winter with a shoulder injury. But he lost this year's Open in a playoff with Ben Hogan and George Fazio, then proceeded to win the Palm Beach round robin last weekend.

Snead Fires 71
In both tournaments, Mangrum topped, among others, Sam Snead, the defending champion and the leading money winner of present day pro golf.

Snead checked in at Scioto with a practice round of 71 yesterday. But "Stammin" Sammy is battling precedent as well as 128 sharp-shooting play-for-pay opponents.

You have to go back to 1937 to find a champion who was successful in defending the PGA crown. That year, Denny Shute repeated.

Dodgers Defeat Giants, 8 To 5

Pirates Whitewash Braves, 1 To 0

By HOWARD SIGMANT
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Things were normal in their usual madcap way in the National League today. The Dodgers and Cardinals were back in a tie for first place and their "cousin" Giants were still helping them along.

Brooklyn made up the half game gap that separated them from St. Louis last night by taking Leo Durocher's team, 8 to 5.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, another cousin team, wound up winning one the hard way last night. Cliff Chambers hurled the Bucs to a 1 to 0 victory over the Boston Braves.

Chambers gave up four hits and got the winning marker in the third inning when Earl Turner singled home Danny Martag from second. Warren Spahn was the Boston loser despite the fact that he pitched five hit ball and struck out nine to run his total number of strikeouts to 79.

Tangle On Mound
Another sidelight in this one was an extra-curricular scuffle between Chambers and Boston's Earl Torgeson. It seems that the Pirate lefty came too close with a pitch in the third inning. The day before he had hit Torgeson in the back. After fouling out, Torgeson and Chambers had words. Then they tangled. Best information had it that few if any actual blows were struck and the men were separated after wrestling to the ground.

Torgeson and Boston reserve infielder Gene Mauch were thumbed out of the game by Umpire Scotty Robb. Incidentally, it was Pittsburgh's fourth win in twenty-three starts. The Philadelphia-Cincinnati night game was rained out. There was only one game in the American League and in that one the Chicago White Sox nosed out the Washington Senators, 4 to 3 in an eleven inning arc-light contest. Marv Rickert broke it up with a homer.

Wrestling Title At Stake Wednesday

CHICAGO, June 20—INS—Lou Thesz, national wrestling alliance heavyweight champion, and Buddy (Nature Boy) Rogers of Camden, N. J., are busy building a feud for their "title" bout in Chicago tomorrow night.

The pair staged a preliminary verbal skirmish at weighing-in and checkup ceremonies before the Illinois Athletic Commission yesterday.

Thesz, at 229½, wished Rogers luck and said he hoped the best man would win.

Rogers, at 227, told him "luck won't do you any good because I'm the best man."

Senators Win Two Games From Johnstown, 4-1, 13-7

George "Fireman" Becka, and Bernie Rossman hurled the Senators to a double win over Johnstown last night 4 to 1, and 13 to 7, to keep the Senators on top by a full game, as Erie split with Vandergrift. Oil City topped Butler.

Becka who has been used chiefly in relief roles lately, turned starter last night, and held the heavy hitting "Johnnies" to five hits in the abbreviated seven-inning first game, for his eighth win against two defeats. Rossman went the entire way in the second game, and although found for 10 hits and walked 11, he was tough in the pinches, to win his fifth game against two defeats.

Famiglietti Hits Grand Slamer
Tommy Famiglietti hit his 4th homer of the current season last night, a bases full round-tripper in the sixth inning to put the Senators ahead 11 to 5. Famiglietti had four hits in six trips at Johnstown.

The Senators continued their sensational road-hitting, getting 25 hits in the two games, 10 the first game and 15 in the night-cap. Gene Bilo, Johnny Vizzini and Dunterman all had three hits in the second battle.

New Castle will end their Johnstown stay with a single game tonight, then move to Erie for an important three-game stand.

New Outfielder Reports
The Senators have obtained a new outfielder, George DiPillo from Spartansburg Class B league. DiPillo is 20 years old and 6 foot 1, weighing 180 pounds. He bats right and throws right.

DiPillo reported yesterday and was sent to Johnstown to join the team. He will probably appear in the lineup tonight.

The Senators have been in the need of a long ball hitter, and DiPillo may fill the bill.

Manager Cronin was expected to start either Dick Janacore or Johnny Sherban tonight at Johnstown, with Wagner slated to face Erie at the Lake City Wednesday and Zedalis on Thursday.

Unusual Interest
The House of David game is creating unusual interest and a record crowd is looked for when they appear here. Let's go to see the "Bearded Beauties" is the slogan wherever you go. Looks as if everybody in town will attend the game.

Rotarians Hear James McLaughry In College Town

New Wilmington Rotary club heard an interesting talk on Moral Rearmament for the world at the regular Monday meeting.

James McLaughry was the speaker. He was introduced by Robert Galbreath, Jr.

McLaughry attended a conference of 8000 representatives from 82 countries that discussed the topic in Gaux, Switzerland, last summer.

The movement itself was started by Frank Buchman, a Lutheran minister from Pennsylvania, in 1921. It has been known as the Oxford Movement as well as Moral Rearmament.

Its ideals are to cure the ills of the world through Christian teachings and brotherly love. It fights communism and believes that a rebirth of moral spirit in the heart of man will lead to happy homes and world peace.

Two former members of the club were welcomed back as active members. They are Fred Taylor and Paul Quimby. Leland Crill of the Mercer Rotary was a visitor.

President Ross Ellis read a letter from District Governor Harold Burns, who is attending a governor's indoctrination course in Chicago.

Next week the Rotarians will see films on the Alaskan and Canadian hunting trip of Charles Robison and Henry Hamilton.

Route 422 Closed Only Temporarily

Contractor working on route 422 east of the city informs the State Highway department that the closing of the route between the city and the Butler county line will be only temporary, and that within a week or so the road may be opened to traffic again.

The road is going to be closed spasmodically during the summer months, Alfred A. Martin, highway superintendent, announced today. The opening and closing of the road will afford some relief to motorists throughout the summer, Mr. Martin stated, and it will not be necessary to follow the detour at all times during the progress of installing the new road.

Announcement will be made through the paper when the road is to be closed and when it will be open. The road was closed as of today and when the contractor gives permission the highway will be thrown open to traffic again.

When firemen were summoned to the home of H. H. Huston, 419 Norwood avenue, at 10:30 p. m. Monday to extinguish a fire in Mr. Huston's car, they were followed by several hundred motorists who caused a traffic jam on Highland and Delaware avenues. Damage of around $250 was done to the car, which is covered by insurance. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported.

At 1:40 a. m. firemen were summoned to the home of Sol DeLullo, 811 Lutton street, when a motor on a deep freeze unit overheated. Chemicals were used to extinguish the fire, the loss being small.

Earlier in the evening, at 8:17 p. m., an alarm from Box 31 called five companies into a fire, but the fire was a small one. Mrs. R. B. Phipps, 416½ East Washington street, had the skillet on the stove and it burned dry, igniting some grease. Mrs. Phipps suffered burns of the arm in attempting to remove it.

view—that of building an animal shelter to take care of stray, sick, injured, aged and non-wanted animals, until they can either be placed in good homes, or humanely disposed of.

CAR HITS BUILDING

William Arend, Bellevue street, Toledo, drove an auto which struck a building at 1329 East Washington street, at 10:35 p.m. Monday. The building was damaged and his car wrecked. He escaped injury.

According to Arend he was driving east and maintained another car operated out of east-bound traffic, directly in front of his auto. To avoid an accident his car went over the curb and struck the building.

The one-celled animal never grows old and never dies, unless it is eaten by another animal or meets with an accident. To propagate, it simply divides itself in two.

Harlansburg P.T.A. Sponsors Dinner For Fathers-Sons

Fathers and their sons were guests of honor at a banquet held at the Liberty Grange hall on a recent evening. A full course chicken dinner was served to the large crowd at 7 o'clock. The group sang the doxology, with the blessing given by Rev. Joseph Leichter.

Group singing was led by Eugene Hill. A welcome to the fathers was presented by Roy Curry, with the response by Eugene Hill.

Several numbers were sung by a quartet composed of Reed McCullough, Arthur Pander, Harry Wyman, and Tom Johnson. L. F. Hemminger then spoke of the work of the Boy Scouts in the community.

The excellent harmony of the quartet was again enjoyed by the group. Magic feats, performed by Arthur Schreiber, completely mystified the entire assemblage. Additional selections by the quartet closed the successful program.

A group of ladies of the Harlansburg P. T. A. composed the dinner committee. These ladies were: Mrs. Leann Musquire, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Allison, Mrs. Hanna Morrow, Mrs. Beverly Weidenhoff, Mrs. Helen Harrison, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Leona Flack, Mrs. Mabel Kneram, Mrs. Ethel McClymonds, and teachers, Miss Geraldine Campbell and Mrs. Esther Eakin.
